Hollis Thompson, E. A. Rolison Mentioned for Managership

If not having a possible successor for your job rumored is an indication that you may be able to keep it, then County Health Director Charles Gans and County Engineer U. S. Marshall appeared pretty well set today.

For although courtesious gossip has placed many men in the field for other county positions in which there may be a shakeup after the new board of supervisors is seated in January, no successors seem to have been named for Gans and Marshall.

But if having rumor earmark your possible successor is disquieting, then County Executive Walter Kellogg, County Publicity Director William McCarthy and County Purchasing Agent Stanley Kelly are worried men.

Kellogg easily walks off with honors in the successor marathon, since with Supervisors John Poole and Fred Beer, his known foes, and Supervisors-elect Alvin Hatch, James S. James, and Hugh H. Smith elected on what was more or less an anti-Kellogg political campaign, he stands little chance of surviving long after the new board is seated.

Joining the ranks of Martin Posa, county fiesta manager, and Assemblyman Frederick Peterson, who have already been named as possible Kellogg successors, are Hollis Thompson, who has gained renown as city manager of Berkeley, and former City Manager Ernest Rolison of Redwood City.

While Thompson has a good position and Rolison is well set in a federal post in Washington, it is considered likely that either might look with favor upon the local $6000-a-year post in the belief that county managing offers a more attractive future than either city manager or federal work.

Only in the last few days have their names come in for very much play. Peterson is openly making a campaign for the position, reports indicated.

As to McCarthy's probable successor, should the political axe fall where it is now apparently

Lions Promote Outdoor Tree Lighting Again

Preparations were underway today for the seventh staging of the local Lions Club annual outdoor Christmas tree contest.

The competition, which yearly aids in Redwood City's Christmas garb being more colorful and cheery, will be supervised by Dr. August Fromm, assisted by Thomas Cutting and George Boring.

Several prizes will be offered for the most original and colorful decoration and lighting of Yule trees.

Entry blanks for the contest will be published later in The Tribune, as will the night to be selected by the committee as the time for the judges to tour Redwood City seeking the prize winning trees.

aimed, Roscoe Wyatt, local chamber of commerce secretary and manager and former county publicity director, and three peninsula newspapermen have been mentioned. One of the press candidates, Jack South, has also been active in seeking support in his campaign for the position.

Ernest Werder, former county purchasing agent, is freely named as the one who may step into Kelly's shoes, should the present purchasing agent, who has been ill a good deal of late, be ousted by the incoming board. Several other trained purchasing agents residing in the county but working in San Francisco have been named as potential Kelly-successors, and Mayor J. E. Cooper of Menlo Park is known to have an eye on the job.

Meanwhile Dr. Gans and Marshall were seen as doing their best to repair "political fences." Marshall dismissed Foreman William Brown, and Henry Daneri, both known to be unpopular politically with incoming supervisors, and noted John J. Fahey, ally of Supervisor Albert Witt.

S. F. Newsman Flies to Death Avoiding Home

A. S. Gregory Killed As M. P. Residents Periled By Ship

Plans were underway today at Moffett Field to convene an army board of inquiry into the death at 11:10 a. m. Sunday of Capt. Alexander S. Gregory, 40-year-old San Francisco newspaperman who died instantly as his attack type army monoplane crashed in a vacant lot on Partridge avenue, Menlo Park.

As the machine plummeted to earth with motor roaring, scores of residents in the thickly populated area rushed from their homes, fearful that he would strike one or more of the houses, but Gregory even in his last moments proved himself a hero and stuck to his ship, smashing it into one of the only available vacant lots.

Gregory, it is believed, had flown in Menlo Park to salute his close friend, Dr. Jack D. Bertoglio, Palo Alto dentist who lives at 873 Partridge avenue.

But as he flew overhead, trouble evidently developed with the nearly new B-T-9 plane, which had been received by the army reserve corps last October 26 from a Santa Monica aircraft corporation.

Dr. Bertoglio reported that the pilot had made a final circle, dipped in salute and banked to speed away when suddenly there was a loud snap and the plane instantly nosed toward the ground.

Richard Leavitt, of 660 Creek drive said that Gregory, apparently in a last effort to gain control of the ship, appeared to attempt an "immelman turn."

But failing, Gregory apparently deliberately stayed with the plane instead of bailing out, heading it for the lot.

As he landed, he barely missed the rooftop of the small yellow cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brohm at 755 Partridge. As it was, the landing gear clipped the top of a pepper tree by the side of the house.

CHAMBER SETS JANUARY 13TH FOR BANQUET

Committees Selected; Seven Directors To Be Named

With January 13 set as the date, directors of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce pushed plans for the annual banquet today as the result of a meeting held on Tuesday at which committees were named.

Heading the committee in charge of arrangements is Sam H. Winkler, K. W. Van Gundy heads the ticket committee; A. Clarence Argo and Stephen Chase are co-chairmen of the dinner and reception committee, and Kenneth L. Bowen is in charge of publicity.

As has been the custom in past years, the banquet will be held in the Sequoia high school cafeteria. At the time of the meeting, seven directors will be elected, six to replace those whose terms expire and one to succeed William Viehauer, who has moved to Burlingame.

As a nominating committee, three past presidents of the chamber were chosen. They are Edward T. Harrison, Elmore B. Hinman and J. E. Morrish. The directors will be balloted on at the meeting.

Preventorium Visits Urged

Mrs. Dana, Directors Reveal Institution Is Always Open

"The doors of the San Mateo Preventorium are open wide to any citizen who may be desirous of inspecting that institution. We feel that such a visit will make the visitor realize more than ever that the preventorium is San Mateo county's own institution for the aid of its tubercular children."

Mrs. Harry S. Dana, president of the San Mateo Preventorium, expressed that opinion today and issued that invitation to the general public as the organization went into its fifth day of campaigning for funds.

Mrs. Dana's invitation was repeated by J. E. Morrish, Mrs. Stewart Edward White, Mrs. Charles Foster, Mrs. C. W. Martin and other officials of the organization. The campaign for funds started Thanksgiving Day with the mailing of thousands of subscription cards throughout the peninsula asking for contributions for the support of the institution.

Since its establishment 16 years ago, the preventorium has returned to health more than 300 children whose parents were unable to foot the medical bills which were necessitated to recover their offspring from the clutches of tuberculosis.

A total of $12,000 is needed to carry out the year's health program.

The preventorium this year is not associating its drive with the sale of Christmas seals, but, instead, is devoting all moneys collected to local work only.

Woodside Road Culvert Work To Be Resumed

Completion of nine county WPA projects has freed sufficient workers so that construction of the concrete box culvert on the southerly side of Woodside road will be resumed December 14, it was announced today by County Engineer U. S. Marshall.

With 7000 feet of the culvert, so constructed that it serves as a sidewalk and curb on the south side of the state highway, already completed, but 2000 feet remain to be finished.

Twenty men will be given two months' work completing the last 2000 feet, Marshall said.

$81,222 DEED FILED

An executor's deed, transferring $81,222 worth of land near Searsville Lake to the Schilling Estate Company, was on file today in the county recorder's office. The deed, covering 200 acres in four parcels, was for land in the estate of the late August Schilling. It was filed by Carl and Rudolph Schilling, the executors.

THREE STARS IN FILM

The large cast of "The Charge of the Light Brigade," which is now playing at The Fox Sequoia Theatre, is headed by the three stars, shown above, Errol Flynn, Olivia De Havilland and Patric Knowles. Completing the double bill is Laurel & Hardy's latest fun fest "Our Relations."

SLOT MACHINE DEMONSTRATION BRINGS CAMP OWNER'S ARREST

Domenico Tango, proprietor of the South San Francisco Auto Camp, picked the wrong men as subjects for a demonstration of the merits of a new slot machine.

As a result, the machine, a 10-cent device that is built to fit on a bar, reposes today in the fast-growing collection of Sheriff James J. McGrath.

James O'Hanlon, district attorney's investigator, accompanied by Deputies Matt Farrell and Dick Arnold, enjoyed the demonstration so much that they took the machine with them, charging Tango with violation of the slot machine act.

Tango's arrest was one of three resulting from the law officers' raids. The trio raided the Bayshore City One-A Cafe last night, bagging a big five-cent slot machine. Proprietor of the cafe, Mell Restani, faced charges similar to those placed against Tango.

The third raid was on the Lomita Park Apollo Cafe of Christ Ralger, who must answer to the law for alleged possession of a five-cent device.

Approximately 90 per cent of the approved medical schools in the country now use these tests as a factor in the selection of their students. It is not necessary for the student to have completed all premedical requirements before taking the tests. Students planning to start medical school in 1937 are advised to take the tests in December. A $1 fee is charged to pay the expenses of the committee in charge.

Last year 10,671 students took the tests in 624 colleges.

Rural hospitals are becoming more numerous throughout the south, the bureau of agricultural economics reports.

Jackson to Defend 3 Holdup Suspects

Atty. Percy Jackson of Burlingame, who appeared here Monday before Superior Judge Aylett Cotton to defend Joseph McGuigan, charged with robbery, was named by Judge Cotton to defend Joseph Hines and Jack Watson, McGuigan's alleged accomplices in the holdup of a Daly City grocery.

The trio, who were arrested by Capt. Paul Perussina October 21 after a wild chase, were given one week to plead. Capt. Perussina chased them merely because he had a "hunch" that the trio were law-breakers.

Hines had been reported ready to confess. The youth, whose home is in Daly City, reportedly has feigned attempts at suicide twice in the county jail, once by allegedly attempting to stab himself with a spoon; another time by pricking at a wrist vein with his belt buckle.

According to Greek legend, Triptolemus gave grain to mankind.

FIVE CHANGES IN ACCOUNTS SYSTEM MADE

Engineer Adopts New Method to Eliminate Alleged Abuses

Five improvements in the cost-accounting system of the county engineering department were in effect today as the result of the recommendations of C. E. Platt, San Mateo cost accountant named by the board of supervisors to make a survey of the department.

Most pointed of the criticisms which Platt, in his report, directed at the department headed by Engineer U. S. Marshall, was that there should be occasional supervision of the wage check delivery to employees.

"Queer and unexpected facts" come to light in studies of accounting systems where an official of the department does not supervise the distribution of the pay checks by foremen to workers, Platt stated, adding that checks should be delivered to the claimants in person, and unclaimed checks should be returned to the office.

Engineer Marshall said that Platt's recommendations, which included no major changes, had been put into effect.

Other recommendations of Platt's report were:

1. That a reorganization of the cost-keeping force be effected so that there will be one man in charge of all cost clerks in the department.

2. That the time-keeping records be maintained in the main office, rather than in the corporation yard as at present.

3. That certain changes be made in the payroll as well as the methods of recording the daily time reports.

4. That action be taken to establish a better safeguard in the matter of small tools held by employees.

5. That the corporation yard and the garage be treated in the cost-keeping records as separate entities.

As to the fourth item, about which Platt said, "It is freely rumored that the loss to the county on small tools run up into thousands of dollars," Marshall said that he would like to hire anyone who could keep the relief workers from losing their shovels.

"We only purchase $1200 worth of tools a year," Marshall added.

Platt also hit the practice of foremen ordering merchandise from commercial firms without requisition or purchase orders. The practice causes delay of just payments, he said.

Crash Victim's Widow Seeking Fund Recovery

Legal aftermath of a Bayshore highway automobile accident in which one person was burned to death and another was fatally injured, John Farrell, San Francisco policeman ousted when a drug store was robbed, Attorney John Taaffe and George Harris, and Dr. Nathan Housman, were named defendants Tuesday in an action brought in San Francisco by Mrs. Mignon Baker, widow of one of the victims, to recover $8479, the United Press reported.

The money, Mrs. Baker's attorney said, was part of $9,874 banked when Baker was injured fatally in an automobile accident October 24. Later, Mrs. Baker asserted, the money was withdrawn by Officer Farrell, who held an order from Baker.

Baker had the money in his possession when the car driven by Frank Baker crashed into the automobile of Russell Sweet, San Francisco Junior College football coach. Mrs. Sweet was burned to death in the crash, which occurred near Brisbane October 26.

Dr. Housman, prominent figure in the trial of Frank Egan, convicted slayer, received $6000 for his services to her husband, and the attorneys, $1250, Mrs. Baker's attorney said. The sums assertedly were in excess of the true value of their services, it was said.

Mrs. Baker, demanding return of the money, said only $1394 of the money she believes Officer Farrell spent, went for legitimate expenses.

COURT REMOVES LAST OBSTACLE TO ACTUAL HARBOR CONSTRUCTION

$200,000 of Bonds to Be Sold, Bids Sought For Redwood City Harbor Project Within Next Few Days

Clearing the way for early start of construction of Redwood City's harbor project, the District Court of Appeals yesterday ruled that the $266,000 of bonds voted June 11 to finance the local project are valid.

A test case had been brought to determine if the city had the right to expend moneys on the port in view of the fact the San Mateo County Harbor District formerly had exclusive control of the harbor.

The court took note of the legal rule that two municipal corporations can not legally exercise the same power simultaneously but concluded the rule did not apply in the present case because the harbor district is not exercising this power, the United Press and Associated Press news services reported to The Tribune.

'SANE' DECISION

"There is no allegation that the San Mateo County Harbor District has ever exercised or is now exercising or performing any of the functions of a harbor district," the court held.

Mayor Paul A. McCarthy, informed of the decision, hailed it as a "very sane and sensible basis on which to rest the decision." He said it disposes of a point raised by Atty. Ernest A. Wilson, counsel for City Clerk B. E. Myers who in order to effect a test of the bonds had declined to sign the issue.

"This decision sustains the opinion of City Attorney Mansfield that we had a clear right to proceed with the development," McCarthy added. "It also upholds the opinion of the attorney general, who had said that Redwood City had a right to proceed regardless of the fact the county harbor district formerly had control of the port."

The decision assures immediate proceedings to secure bids for building of the harbor facilities.

McCarthy said that $200,000 of the bonds would be put up for sale at once, and would undoubtedly be disposed of within two weeks to banks and other investors.

$71,325 PWA GRANT

The $200,000 will be supplemented by the federal grant of $71,325 made available by the government, and which was to replace $66,000 of the bonds voted by the people.

Judge McNutt Dismisses Suit Revived Here

County Manager Now Is Believed Safe Until Term Ends

With Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt as the referee, San Mateo county's charter and County Manager Walter T. Kellogg together warded off a new attack Tuesday, and at the end of a four-minute round in superior court, were declared victors over their latest challenger.

The quick knockout of the disputant to the charter's validity and Kellogg's right to finish his term in office was effected by Dist. Atty. Gilbert D. Ferrell. He appeared as counsel for both the County of San Mateo and for Manager Kellogg.

TWO WORD DECISION

Since the suit revived by Atty. John E. Manders sought to remove Kellogg from his $6000-a-year post, with the action's dismissal, Kellogg is safe in his job for the time being.

So decisive was the victory for the charter, which has been challenged without success numerous other times, that not even the necessary "10 count" was necessary to signalize it. Two short words from Judge McNutt ended the case in brief but dramatic fashion. The words were: "Motion granted."

TOO MUCH TIME ELAPSED

They were in answer to Attorney Ferrell's motion that the old suit be dismissed on the grounds of lack of prior prosecution.

Manders had dug the quo warranto action out of superior court files last week and announced that he would seek a ruling on an unsettled phase of the suit—eligibility of Kellogg to fill the office of manager in view of the fact that he previously worked for the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, which held a franchise with the county.

South Sea Island Trip Joys Revealed

Cold winter mornings on the peninsula were forgotten by freshman and sophomore students of Sequoia Union High School Tuesday as they listened to a description of the sunny South Sea Islands, told at a morning assembly by Miss Marion Hosmer, teacher, who spent the past summer in a trip to the islands.

Miss Hosmer will recount her adventures again Thursday morning for juniors and seniors at the school at their weekly assembly.

Summarizing the $397,422 WPA work done in San Mateo county during the past year, Engineer U. S. Marshall revealed today that 57 per cent of the expenditures were covered by the government as against 33.7 per cent for the county and 9.3 per cent of unemployment relief funds.

This work, he said, gave to WPA workers 291,684 hours of labor, equivalent to 2570 man-months of labor. Had these men been forced upon the relief rolls, their monthly allowances alone would have totaled $89,950, with no useful work resulting.

Greatest percentage of the federal contribution was in wages, $159,249, while material, $65,514, tools and rental made up the rest.

The road department's $133,716 contribution included county road equipment furnished on a rental basis, $71,179; materials, $15,575; wages for supervision, equipment operators and other labor, $23,635; engineering and clerical wages, $11,288.

Unemployment relief funds were divided into equipment rentals, $60,333; materials, $10,456; transportation, $5004; wages, $15,565.

The quantity of construction work accomplished, Marshall said, was enormous. It included 171,800 cubic yards of roadway excavation; five miles of road shaping; two miles of shaping and placing rock base; 23.6 miles of shaping, placing rock base and asphaltic wearing surface; 1338 cubic yards of reinforced concrete structures; 32 manholes; the laying of 22,463 linear feet of various pipes; clearing of 52 acres of timber; con-

W. E. Douglasses
Celebrate Golden
Wedding Anniversary

Five sons, one daughter and 12 grandchildren were present to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Douglass of Redwood City Sunday, November 22, when they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with a family reunion and dinner party.

Although the actual date of the anniversary falls on November 21, the celebrants chose Sunday for their observance so that more members of the family might be present.

Gathered about them Sunday and enjoying dinner with them at Pete and Mary's were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Douglass of Edgewood road and their two children, Kenneth and Vivian; Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Douglass and children, Audrey and Keith, also of Redwood City; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Douglass and children, Dorothy and Lester, of Atherton; Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Douglass and children, Barbara and Frank Jr., of Vacaville; Mr. and Mrs. Byron Prather and children, Lillian, Walter, Evelyn and Wesley, of San Francisco, and Mr. and Mrs. Ansel R. Douglass of Stockton.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Douglass, who were married November 21, 1886, in Oroville, Mrs. Douglass being the former Sarah E. Levitt, have made their home in Redwood City for 18 years, although their stay here was interrupted by a residence in Oroville, from where they returned here three years ago.

MENLO PARK NEWS NOTES

The bazaar, under the auspices of the ladies of the Church of the Nativity for charitable purposes, will open this evening in the Central School Auditorium and continue to Saturday night. Numerous articles suitable for Christmas will be offered for sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harrington celebrated, recently, the 40th anniversary of their marriage by a dinner at their home on Pine street. Only the immediate family and a few friends were present.

John Roach, young son of F. P. Roach, suffered a broken arm while playing football last week. Only recently his brother, Richard, fractured the bones of his left hand while working in the county garage at Redwood City.

Miss Carmel O'Keefe is a house guest of Miss Ruth Rugaard in Walnut Grove.

Mr. E. J. Crane, who was buried from the Church of the Nativity last Saturday, was a pioneer of Menlo Park and well-known in political circles for many years. He came here in the early nineties to do the painting on St. Patrick's Seminary. After the completion of this work, he launched into the contracting business and for years enjoyed a monopoly of the trade. Mr. Crane served as postmaster under the Wilson administration, securing the appointment through his friend, the late Senator James Phelan. He served as councilman for one term and made an excellent official as police commissioner.

Mr. Crane was born and reared in Stockton, but as a young man came to San Francisco to learn the painter's trade. He mingled in politics, becoming a supporter of James Phelan and Peter Curtis and was instrumental in electing the latter as sheriff for two terms.

At the funeral services the Rev. R. Curtis, son of the ex-sheriff, assisted. He was ordained at St. Patrick's Seminary and is pastor of the Los Gatos Catholic church. Mr. Crane was highly esteemed

Dr. Richardson
Passes Away

Funeral services were held from Gray's mortuary, Divisadero street at Post, San Francisco, Thursday for Dr. Elizabeth E. Richardson, San Francisco orthodontist who for the past 30 years had lived in Redwood City.

Mrs. Richardson, widow of Capt. John Richardson, passed away suddenly Monday night at 9:30 o'clock of a heart attack, suffered at her home at 80 Finger avenue.

Although Mrs. Richardson travelled into the city daily to maintain her practice, despite her 73 years of age, she had remained home Monday, having felt ill. Her death was unexpected, however, and came as a shock to relatives and friends.

A native of Rio Vista, Calif., Dr. Richardson was well known in the bay region and was regarded as one of the best dentists of her line in San Francisco.

Mrs. Richardson was the aunt of Mrs. Walter Pratt and Mrs. J. T. Donahue, grand-aunt of George W. Donahue of Merced and Mrs. Ruth E. McLaren of Redwood City.

There are two towns in Alabama named Jackson.

Oliver Goldsmith is referred to as the only author in English literature who has written a great novel, a great play and a great poem. The titles are: "The Vicar of Wakefield," "She Stoops to Conquer," and "The Deserted Village."

William Bakewell, screen juvenile, is back in films after his first season on Broadway.

A. E. Housman, who died recently, became a "classic" with his first book of poems, "A Shropshire Lad."

New Manager For WPA Unit

Beaton Takes Charge
In District Office
As Eddy Leaves

Bringing with him Monterey county as a part of the ninth WPA district, Col. Hugh Beaton Jr. of Santa Barbara today took over the district WPA office in San Jose, succeeding W. O. Eddy, who goes to state headquarters in San Francisco.

As Eddy left San Jose, the big administrative offices there buzzed with an undercurrent of conjecture as to what heads would fall with the new man in charge.

A district director is appointed or removed by the state administrator, but those below the rank of district director may be removed only by the director himself.

Sources believed informed have persistently said Beaton was transferred to this district to fire staff members Eddy declined to fire, and make room for political appointments by district party tycoons.

A new report, however, said the alleged impending Beaton shake-up would prove negligible, as state headquarters was stiffening its attitude in the matter and making qualifications of new appointees more difficult to meet.

Mrs. Antone Davis Killed in Oakdale

Funeral services were held Wednesday in Oakdale for Mrs. Antone Davis, who was killed in an automobile accident in that city Monday morning. Mrs. Davis was the wife of Antone Davis, first fire chief in the Woodside Fire District. The family later lived in Redwood City. Besides her husband, the deceased leaves two sons.

Water Group Awaits Friday Meet at S. M.

Suggestion of San Francisco Utilities Director Edward G. Cahill for the peninsula to secure Hetch Hetchy water at reasonable rates by forming water districts will be discussed by peninsula mayors and others interested in the water problem at a meeting Friday night at 8 o'clock in the San Mateo City Hall.

To the People of Redwood City:

We wish to take this opportunity to thank our customers for their tremendous response to our opening day specials.

We appreciated the patronage of those of you who came, saw and bought. We hope that you found in our store everything you wanted at a price you wanted to pay.

To those who did not come, we feel sure that you missed an enviable opportunity to buy many household necessities and apparel items at big savings.

However, this was only the first of many major promotions that we will hold during the Christmas season and the coming year. Such opportunities will be repeated in the future and are being offered every day on daily necessities.

To the local carpenters, painters, electricians, sign men and others whose enthusiastic co-operation enabled us to open our doors in record-time we extend our sincere appreciation.

Widow's Suit Initiates Quiz

Just what was in the mind of a dying man may be the unobtainable key to the mystery which authorities were attempting to untangle today after Mrs. Mignon Baker, widow of a man who lost his life in a San Mateo county traffic crash, filed suit in San Francisco charging unlawful conversion of personal property in the amount of $8479.54.

Her suit seeks to find out whether her husband, Lewis M. Baker, before he died, gave John C. Farrell, former San Francisco policeman, unlimited right to spend more than $8000 taken from Baker for safekeeping by South San Francisco Hospital after the accident.

She asks that the money be returned plus the cost of suit and $2500 attorneys' fees. Baker died October 28, two days after an automobile accident in which Mrs. Russell Sweet, wife of the San Francisco Junior College football coach, was burned to death.

The suit asserts that Baker was taken to South San Francisco Hospital, where a cash sum of $9874.14 was taken from him and deposited in a South San Francisco bank by hospital authorities.

Subsequently, the suit charges, Farrell appeared with a signed order of Baker's for the money. Mrs. Baker authorized Farrell to spend necessary amounts for expenses of the accident.

Then, she charges, Farrell gave Dr. Nathan S. Housman $6100 for professional services.

Dr. Housman, however, claims he never received the disputed fee. Also, Attorney John J. Taaffe, named as a defendant, was given $1250, according to charges.

George Harris, another attorney, said to have accompanied Farrell when he got the money, is also named as a defendant.

Taaffe late yesterday denied there was any grounds for the action, saying the money was turned over to Farrell after Baker's responsibility had been checked by doctors, and on the advice of the hospital's attorney, John W. Colberg.

JUDGE TAKES ORPHAN CASE FOR DECISION

Racial Bonds Pitted Against Devotion In Odd Case

Strength of racial bonds against those of natural devotion—

This appeared to be the problem facing Judge A. R. Cotton Tuesday as he took under submission five petitions for the guardianship of Olga and Leanna Boellaard, blonde, happy children who were orphaned by a train-auto accident here July 16.

With three of the petitioners in accord that Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hugo, with whom the children are now contentedly living, should have temporary custody of the children, only the Hugos and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Ivars of San Francisco pushed their cases through presentation of testimony before the court.

WOULD YIELD TO RELATIVES
All the petitioners agreed that should blood relatives become established in California, they would relinquish the children to them. Miss Nina Kusnetsoff of Kobe, Japan, Mrs. Maria Boellaard's sister, is seeking entry to the United States, and, if the immigration quota permits, may arrive here before Christmas. She is the petitioner before whom others involved in the fight for the custody of the children appear ready to give way.

Other Officers Are Selected

Collin L. Stokes, 521 Arlington road, San Francisco steel company executive, was elected president of the Redwood City Exchange Club for the year 1937 at the regular weekly dinner meeting of the club Tuesday in the Hotel Sequoia.

J. A. Buhler of the Bank of America here, was elected first vice-president; Kenneth Van Gundy, of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, was chosen second vice president, and James Dodge, Broadway merchant, was named third vice president.

Dr. Rollo La Borge was elected secretary of the club, and Dr. William R. Langston was re-elected treasurer.

New directors elected were Francis Britschgi, Mark Larwood, W. W. Hendricks, Kendall Towne, Dr. Ralph Howe and Mr. Dodge. Elections followed nominations placed by Wilbur Dossie as chairman of the committee.

The club endorsed the $350,000 bond issue to be voted upon December 8 to refund the 1915 act improvement debt. The endorsement came on motion of Harold Anderson and second of Robert Steffens, after Steffens, as a member of the citizens' bond committee, explained its purposes.

Deadly Weapon Charge Upheld Against Negress

Only two legal motions stood today between Eleanor Barrios, colored, manager of a San Francisco hotel, and execution against her of a verdict of guilty of assault with a deadly weapon.

She was found guilty at a trial concluded here Tuesday afternoon before Superior Judge A. R. Cotton, but her attorney, J. Lipman of San Francisco, made a motion for a new trial and another to arrest judgment.

Judge Cotton continued the trial until December 8 to hear arguments on the motions and to impose sentence, should he deny the motions.

Miss Barrios was charged with having fired several shots at Isadore Baptista after she had become enraged at him at a colored picnic in Colma September 8.

Police, who laid the shooting to "jealousy," were amazed when Baptista so far forgot his feelings at having been a target for Miss Barrios' automatic, to come to the county jail and attempt to bail her out.

Sequoia Given $1500 Gift of Music Set

En route to Sequoia Union High School from the East today is a "Junior Music Set," a gift from the Carnegie Corporation branch of the Carnegie Foundation. Secured through the efforts of Band and Orchestra Director Max Galber and Principal A. C. Argo, who called to the corporation's attention the need for such a set at the local high school and the standing and qualifications of the school, the set includes a loud-speaking radio, phonograph, a library of records and books on music, valued at $1500.

The American mountain beaver moves so slowly that a child can catch it.

Early Mailing Is Urged Here

With the holiday rush almost here, Postmaster Robert O'Connell Jr. today made a strong appeal to Redwood City and other San Mateo county residents to mail their Christmas packages and greeting cards early. Gifts intended for points abroad should go forward at once and persons sending them to eastern states should allow from 10 days to two weeks to assure delivery by Christmas.

The tremendous volume of mail handled by the United States postal department during the holiday season makes early mailing a necessity and the coming season promises to witness the largest volume of mail in many years, since improved business conditions have increased people's purchasing power.

Every holiday season finds the postoffice jammed with mail which must be moved as rapidly as possible, but which physical conditions often cause to remain undelivered until after Christmas, O'Connell said.

"These physical conditions we can overcome to a certain extent by addition of extra clerks and carriers, but, invariably, the flood of holiday mail is beyond our capabilities, and some delay is bound to occur unless packages and cards are dispatched within plenty of time," the postmaster said.

If packages or cards are destined for distant points, outside California, particularly, these should be mailed as soon as possible. Marked "Do Not Open Until Christmas," they may be preserved at the destination until the holiday—a plan infinitely better than having gifts arrive late, the postmaster pointed out.

Promptness in mailing will also enable postal employees to arrange their work so that they can spend Christmas with their families, O'Connell said.

Valuation Suit Of Redwood City Is Submitted

Application of the City of Redwood City to have a valuation placed on the property of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company here so that the city may push its plans to take over the distribution system, was taken under submission by the State Railroad Commission Tuesday, the United Press reported.

Carl Heinz, consulting engineer, reported on his appraisal of the properties, and Albert Mansfield, Redwood City city attorney, said the city believed $378,467 would be a fair valuation and provide just compensation to the company.

Chaffe Hall, attorney for the company, filed an appraisal listing the physical value of the property at $430,000 and said that an additional $178,333 should be provided for severance damages.

TRANSIENT HIT BY CAR
SAN MATEO, Dec. 2—Knocked down as he attempted to cross Thirty-Eighth street here last night, John McAleenan, 67, itinerant, was treated at Mills Memorial Hospital for a foot injury. Irving Wilson, Financial Center Building, San Francisco, driver of the car which struck McAleenan, was not held.

Power Rates To Be Lowered

P. G. & E. Plans Cut Feb. 1; Saving Seen Of $3,000,000

Savings for consumers of more than $3,000,000 annually were seen today in power rate reductions announced in San Francisco yesterday by the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, the Associated Press reported.

The company said nearly 700,000 customers would benefit by the reduction, similar to one of $4,000,000 announced January 1 and another of $2,500,000 in gas rates effective May 1.

The nature of the reduction, just what it will mean to various types of service and localities, is something which cannot be detailed until the scope and changes in rate schedules are studied by the state railroad commission, the company announced.

The reduction will become effective with meter readings taken on and after February 1, 1937, the announcement declared, and "is consistent" with a company

COUNTY CENSUS IS SET AT 93,500 IN NEW SURVEY

San Mateo county will have a population of 93,500 on January 1, 1937, according to an estimate of the population of California counties just completed by California Taxpayers' Association. Population of the county on January 1, 1936, was 93,676, the association estimated.

According to the federal census, San Mateo county's population was 77,405 on April 1, 1930, so that the taxpayers' association's estimate shows an increase of about 16,100 by January 1, 1937.

The total population of California, the association estimated, will be 6,790,000 on January 1, 1937, an increase of approximately 1,113,000 over the census population of 5,677,251 as of April 1, 1930.

WOHLBRUCK, MUSEUM MAN, PASSES AWAY

Operator of One-Time Establishment Here Dies in San Jose

Theodore C. ("Ted") Wohlbruck, 57, of San Jose, operator until a year ago of the transportation museum at 2414 El Camino Real, Redwood City, died Saturday in San Jose, thereby closing a life dedicated to preserving relics of the old West for the education and enjoyment of future generations.

Unfadingly khaki-clad, Wohlbruck roamed the state from Chico to San Diego for the last 25 years photographing classes of school children, an occupation that he raised to an art to become an acknowledged genius in his field.

His hobby was antiques. The winter he gave unselfishly to his work, touching nearly every school in his adopted home, California, and the summer he devoted as completely to ferreting out mementos of the past.

He is mourned by his widow, Mrs. Harriet Wohlbruck, who lives at the family home; an 86-year-old mother, Mrs. Arabella Wohlbruck of Worcester, Mass., and five sisters, all living in the East. Three children by a previous marriage, also residing in the East, also survive.

S. J. Man Breaks Back In Coastside Crash

Louis Righetti, San Jose truck driver, lay in Mills Memorial Hospital today, critically injured with a broken back as the result of a coastside accident in which the produce truck he was driving failed to make a curve and overturned.

Righetti was given emergency treatment by Dr. R. D. Borley, before being taken to the hospital. The accident occurred on the coast road a quarter mile north of Half Moon Bay.

Hoover to Study Europe's State At First Hand

With friends terming the idea "ridiculous" that former President Herbert Hoover might follow Charles Lindbergh's example and go to England to make his home, Mr. Hoover was reported today making preparations to leave his Palo Alto home for an extended tour of Europe to study financial and political conditions. He first will go to England, it was reported, and later plans to visit the continent.

Several times Hoover has been "invited" to visit Europe or take up residence in some other locality, but he has firmly refused.

Hoover left last week for a leisurely trip to New York, with no definite itinerary. He will return to Palo Alto to pass the Christmas holidays at his home.

R. C. Laborer Admits Intoxicated Driving

Refusing the services of an attorney, Rosario Quinones, 31, Redwood City laborer charged with driving while intoxicated, a felony because four persons were injured in the crash which resulted in his arrest pleaded guilty Monday before Superior Judge Aylett Cotton, who continued the case a week, referring it to Probation Officer Francis Robinson for recommendation.

Quinones was the driver of the machine which October 31 collided at Five Points with the car driven by Hugo Endrigo, 441 Jackson avenue. Endrigo was shaken up and Virginia Sahlgren and Jerry Tuxford of Redwood City and Marian Eskilson of Palo Alto were cut and bruised.

World Typing Titlist Here

Holder of the world's amateur typing championship, with a record of 122 words per minute for one hour and an accuracy rating of more than 95 per cent perfect, Chester Soucek of New York City demonstrated his ability to students at Sequoia Union High School at an assembly Tuesday afternoon.

Several classes were dismissed to attend the demonstration, for which the auditorium was filled to capacity. Soucek was introduced by Miss Montana Delbon, high school instructor.

Soucek won the school novice typing championship in 1927, typing 81 words per minute after only a year's instruction. Two years later, in 1929, he established a world's amateur record with 118 words per minute. His present record was established last year at an international typing contest in Toronto.

Though confined to bed 38 years with paralysis, Jose Reuther, 47, of Petropolis, Brazil, conducts a grade school for 21 children, buys and sells on commission and writes newspaper and magazine articles.

Gelber Organizing Tri-State Orchestra

Music pupils of high schools in California, Nevada and Arizona, and possibly from Alaska and Hawaii, will be represented in an all-Western orchestra being organized under supervision of Max Gelber, Sequoia Union High School band and orchestra director, to appear in concert under the baton of Alfred Hertz, San Francisco Symphony conductor, in the spring. Gelber is contacting schools of the three states and the two territorial possessions and selecting from among their orchestra personnel outstanding students for membership in the all-Western orchestra. The project is an undertaking of the California Western School Music Conference execu-

4 Local People Named on Panel For Grand Jury

19 From 30 on Venire Will Be Selected 'When Required'

Selection of 30 prospective 1937 grand jurors, four of them from Redwood City, was announced today by Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt.

The veniremen will be called together "when the business of the county requires." Then, by lot, the 19 members composing the inquisitorial body which watches over the political and official conduct of the county will be chosen.

The four local residents selected are Clarence M. Dooze, 79 Claremont street, president of the San Mateo County Title Company; Mrs. Minnie T. Ross, housewife, 211 Myrtle street; Burton A. Bartheaux, butcher, 718 Arguello street, and Louise M. Alexander, housewife, 29 Clinton street.

Menlo Park, Belmont, San Carlos and North Palo Alto each rated one prospective grand juror.

DUTIES TOLD

Judge McNutt, who two years ago when he selected prospective jurors, did not call the panel together until six months after their names had been announced, said that the duties of the jury consists in "considering such evidence as the district attorney may lay before it, which in his opinion is sufficient to warrant, if believed, charges of high misdemeanor, felonies or accusations of public officials."

The superior judges take turn-abouts in selecting the panel, Judge Cotton having named it last year. Although the jurors are named for no specific term, the law stating that they serve until discharged, custom has limited the grand jury terms to one year.

The jury will be selected, when called, by drawing 19 or more names from the 30 placed in a jury ballot box. The judge may excuse any of the jurors from duty, should the venireman's excuse for not serving be considered sufficient.

OTHER CITIES LISTED

Following, by cities, are the panel members other than those already listed from Redwood City:

Menlo Park: Catherine Perry, housewife, 1110 Pine street.

Belmont: John C. Burke, merchant, El Camino Real.

San Carlos: Joseph F. Nash, salesman, 936 Walnut street.

North Palo Alto: Howard Stafford, salesman, 109 Live Oak avenue.

San Mateo: Julian Tieulle, rancher; Arthur Deuel, manager of the San Mateo-Hayward Bay Bridge; Edward Brady, county labor leader; Virgilio Cocconi, cement contractor; John D. Bromfield, vice president of Levy Bros. department store.

Burlingame: Thomas L. Comyns, retired; Anthony A. Hock, oil company official; Nellie Clifford, housewife; Janet Pierpont Rogers, club leader; Henry W. Root, salesman; Esther D. Stephens, housewife; Patrick R. Rorke, merchant.

Montara: George M. Havice, florist.

Daly City: Joseph F. Dolan, material dealer; Ida C. Garibaldi, housewife.

South San Francisco: George W. Colston, banker.

Millbrae: Martha W. Chamberlin, housewife.

Bayshore City: Mabel C. Hatch, housewife.

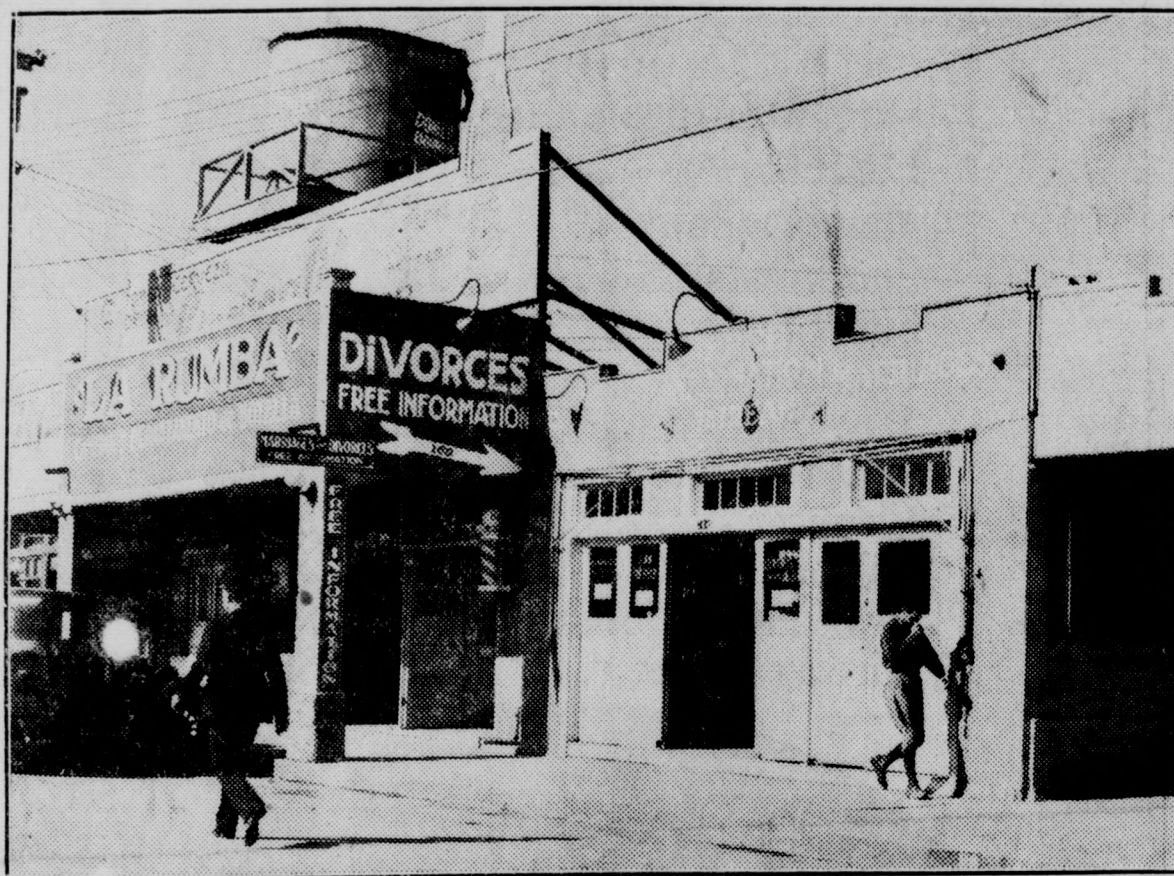

San Bruno: Joshua D. Maule Sr., cruggist.

Hillsborough: Nina D. Washburn, housewife.

Pescadero: Michele R. Mattei, farmer.

Half Moon Bay: Emanuel G. Liller, clerk.

BURLINGAME LIMITS HIT DEFINITELY

Boundary of Hillside Drive Section Due For Revamping

One specific instance of the political boundary discrepancies which will be before the board of supervisors Monday was learned today as County Publicity Director William McCarthy expressed belief that his report will reveal "a very, very serious condition."

Typical of the apparently numerous instances of disagreement between county and city records as to boundaries is the situation in Burlingame's Hillside drive region, where residents are claimed by both county and city.

Taxpayers there have been paying city taxes, but county records show them as residents of the unincorporated area, listing their voting place as the Burlingame Hills polling booth, Chief Deputy County Clerk William Augustus disclosed.

MAY BE INSTANCE HERE

He said that he believed there was another such instance in Redwood City's case, but could not cite specifically just what was the precinct involved. Other officials indicated that discrepancies existed in both Atherton and Hillsborough city limits.

At the same time McCarthy, saying that the condition was one which must be taken care of at once, disclosed that it was the proposed county tax on billboards and enclosures that had initiated his study after the tax problem had been turned over to County Executive Walter Kellogg for investigation, and Kellogg in turn had assigned the matter to McCarthy. Seeking information that would aid in preparation of the county ordinance, McCarthy said he found that no office in the county, not even the engineer's office, possessed maps showing the county political boundaries.

'BEFORE STEPPING OUT'

So he began the study with Oliver J. Hobson, record clerk of the engineer's office who is said to know more about county records than anyone else.

McCarthy refused to divulge information on the report because he did not wish to offend the board before which he will lay the report at Monday's meeting.

"I also have several other surveys made which I will present to the board before I step out," McCarthy said, the remark indicating either that he intended to resign his post, or feels perhaps that his

Ill County Workers Joined By Glennan

Joining the long list of county employees recently stricken seriously ill, Wilbur Glennan, affectionately known as "Pansy," was taken to Mills Memorial Hospital this week where X-rays are expected to disclose whether he must undergo an operation for a kidney ailment. Glennan, deputy sheriff in the county jail, was taken ill Monday.

Another deputy sheriff, John Simpkin, operated on for appendicitis and then suffering a broken back and fractured legs when, delirious, he jumped off the second-floor sun porch of the Palo Alto Hospital, was reported "holding his own" today.

Dismissal under the incoming anti-Kellogg board is certain.

Engineer U. S. Marshall will present the engineering side of the political boundary variances to the board, McCarthy said.

Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach owns 31 books printed by Caxton, the first printer.

Sparks From Flue Start Roof Blaze

Sparks from a chimney were believed the cause of a fire which Monday evening, shortly after 5 o'clock, damaged the roof of a three-family apartment house owned by R. C. Holmquist, local hardware merchant.

Mrs. Mabel Munro, who with her son, R. A. Munro, occupies one of the apartments, telephoned the alarm after neighbors had called to her that the house was on fire. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Barham and Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Ruggiero are other residents of the 860 Walnut street house.

Saturday Last Day For Paying Taxes

County Tax Collector Ambrose McSweeney warned taxpayers today that Saturday, December 5, will be the last day for paying first installment taxes without penalty. The office will be open till 5 p.m. that day, he said, but asked that citizen avoid the "last minute rush" if possible.

County Per Capita Tax Set at $58

San Mateo county local governments had a total income of $5,289,015 or $58 per capita in 1934-35, according to findings of California Taxpayers' Association. The local governments include the county, the cities, the schools, and other districts. Compared with other California counties, San Mateo's local governments income per capita was 17th from the highest. The average for the state as a whole was $57.47.

Income in the county from local taxes levied by the county, cities, and schools was $2,847,706, or $31.23 per capita; other districts collected $486,300, or $5.33 per capita; apportionments from the state amounted to $1,550,089, or $17 per capita, while miscellaneous local income amounted to $404,920, or $4.44 per capita, the association stated.

Northend Area Suffers Flood

A 54-inch pipe line, carrying one-fourth of San Francisco's water supply, burst Wednesday and flooded a large area north of Daly City.

Officials of the Spring Valley Water Company said more than a million gallons of water were lost. The pipe broke soon after 6 a.m. and for more than an hour the water ran wild in the vicinity of Junipero Serra boulevard and Bell street, near the San Mateo county line.

The water company's office at Millbrae received an order to shut the line down. It was expected that before noon the line would be repaired and again be in operation.

The line break will not endanger the San Francisco water supply since four lines carry the Hetch Hetchy water. The utilities company has cross lines to take care of emergencies.

The huge pipe line carries 30 million gallons of water a day. Cause of the break had not been determined by company officials today.

NEW ATHERTON HOME SET
Revealing that another luxurious mansion is to be added to those in Atherton, a contract for a two-story, $35,533 home was filed here with County Recorder T. C. Rise. The home, on Alameda de las Pulgas, will be built for Mrs. Marie Buck Dueto by the A. F. Mattock Company.
